Dear Rebecca:

I apologize for being so late getting this information to you.
Enclosed are a few corrections on the computer printout.

I also enclose the "History of Anna Elizabeth Riley Stone". Please print as much of this as possible in memory of my grandmother, Gladys Stone Turnage Boykin. It contains many little sayings as to how they lived in the "Old Days". It would mean much to me if you could print the entire document.

Thank you for your kind help.

Sincerely,

Clif Turnage

DO NOT DESTROY!!!!

February 18, 1971

Dear Clif---

Was so good to hear your voice, and I was really taken by surprise to hear your voice - good grief, no telling how long it's been. You will still have time in August to come out here after your 16th Birthday - O.K.? You know good and well there will not be much hunting then, so you are coming here, and we're going to plan and sit back & look, O.K.??? It's not but about 295 miles approx. from here to Little Rock, then that much farther to Lake V. No excuse! See ya!

Here goes the Turnage History : Quoted by Marvin Turnage - Little Rock

"While in South Mississippi recently, I stopped by Monticello where Papa was born nearly 100 years ago to see if I could pick up some Turnage history.

Quite a number have remained there since the 1700's when they came there from So. Carolina. Originally, the family came from Wales in the 1600's and settled in Virginia. I met Robert Turnage who is an attorney. He showed me some records in the court house. Papa's father was William Turnage, and we found where a person with that name bought an ox cart in 1865 and a marriage license in 1870.

They told me William was a common name in the Turnage Family, and after seeing me, they said, "they could see a resemblance with the Turnage's there, and there-abouts". I met a lady who was formerly a Turnage who said, "we were all kin". There is a Judge Turnage there, but I didn't have time to see him.

(Clif be sure & look the Judge up, he will be interesting).

Robert wanted me to me him because he knows a lot about the family. Robert has a brother or relative who has done considerable research into the family history, and said, "we have a Coat of Arms". I asked Robert to have him send me a copy of the history he has accumulated. Robert told me a Turnage helped establish the county seat in the 1700's. It is a quaint little town which, obviously, has not changed much for a long time. They told me they have a Turnage Re-union there every year. (Clif, try & find out when it is - Re-union, that is,

I suppose Papa's Aunt (Nancy Brown) was his fathers' sister. I don't know, but I would like to know more about the history. According to records William Turna married a lady named Bass. Judge Turnage according to Robert is quite old."

Unquote
Clif - I really hope you can find out lot of interesting infor. and can compile together accordingly. Do you think you & your Dad will go together or what?

Let me hear from you after you make your visit or visits, maybe.

I mentioned in the 1st history letter I sent you that Aunt Viola (lives Here) said she could possibly put infor. into a "Family-tree". Doesn't matter who however - whosver is capable is way I feel about it - Bye.

Love,
Betty Turnage

Jane Jackson		Norcella Mae Franklin

James Cooper Riley and Elizabeth Ann Davis had twelve children between 1851 and 1876.

He was a leader in the county and in the Mt.Olive Baptist Church. They are buried in the Mt. Olive Cemetery as well as some of the other descendants.

As you read the 79 pages of names of his descendants, I think you will see we have a large family to be proud of.

HISTORY OF ANNA ELIZABETH RILEY STONE

Anna Elizabeth Riley was born on January 26th 1876. She was the daughter of James Nathaniel (Jim) Riley and Julia Fidelia Taylor Riley. They lived about $1 \frac{1}{2}$ miles north of Berea, Arkansas in Ashley County. When Anna Elizabeth was 11 days old, her mother died. After her mother's death, Grandma Riley (Elizabeth Davis Riley, wife of James Cooper Riley,) took her and raised her with her family. Grandma Riley also raised another grandchild, Eula Maude Powell, daughter of Lula Riley Powell and John Powell.

After Anna Elizabeth's death, her father, James N. (Jim) Riley, married Mattie Yelvington. Born to them were John Riley (who was Sheriff of Ashley County a few years), Ira G. Riley, and Kitty Riley Clark, (her half brothers and sister.) They lived on Riley Creek where Grandma Riley did her washing. She had one place on the creek to wash and as years went by it became "Grandma Riley's wash hole." It is still there and is still known to all of us as "Grandma Riley's wash hole." My mother, Anna Elizabeth Stone and Uncle George Riley always laughed about a time when they were at the creek with Grandma Riley doing her washing. Uncle George and mama were at the creek watching for fish and water bugs when Uncle George bent over and pointed into the water and said, "Dar go a minnow." He bent over too far and fell in the creek head first. Grandma got him out of the water. It was very deep at that time. (We went to the place last year and it is almost dried up now.)

Mama lived with Grandma Riley until she married Jackson Van Buren Stone, January 29, 1893. When Anna Elizabeth Riley was getting ready to marry Jackson Van Buren Stone, Grandma Riley asked her father to buy material for her wedding dress. He did, but Grandma did not like it, so she sold a cow to buy pretty material and made her wedding dress.

Jackson Van Buren Stone was the son of William Benton Stone and Artimisa Jane Waldrop Stone. His grandparents were Sam R. and Susan Waldrop. He was born November 17, 1870. They first lived at what was known as the Thornell place, across "Little Bearhouse" creek in front of Uncle George Riley's home. The house was small and part of it had dirt floors. Later her father, James N. (Jim) Riley, at the request of Grandma Riley, gave mama and papa a house and an eighty acre tract of land. They moved there, but in 1910 the house which was part log, with kitchen at the back, burned. They built another one across the road approximately 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ miles from Mount Olive Church and the cemetery and more is written about the church in another record. The church is still in good condition and available as an occasional meeting place. The cemetery is being used and maintained by perpetual care. Both the church and cemetery are memorials to the days gone by. Mama and Papa are buried there, with three of their sons, two daughters-in-law, and two grandchildren.

" All the original family were (at times) members of Mount Olive Baptist Church. The church was about two miles east of our home. As we grew up on this small farm, we had very little in our early years, but we were taught love and respect, and papa would not let us argue.

One fall papa was going to Hamburg, twelve miles away, to sell his cotton and buy our winter shoes. Mama and papa were measuring each foot by pieces of paper and they got disturbed with some of us smaller ones and mama said to papa, "If you had listened to me, we would not have so many children." Papa said, "Have you got one you want to give away?" She said "No!" That was the end of that!

We lived at this place until 1924. We moved to Gate's log camp to run a boarding house for the working men. It was near Monticello, near Possum Valley. (Gate's Camp sold out to Crossett in 1925,) then they moved to Crossett Camp south of Crossett, AR. and lived there a few years. In 1929 they moved to the Old Willie Douglas Place about $\frac{1}{2}$ mile from Mount Olive church and cemetery. In 1930, I moved back to mama's and papa's with my two sons, Charles L. & Edward M. Turnage. While they were living there, mama was sick for a long time. Dr. Jess D. Riley was superintendant at the state sanatorium. He came to Mount Olive to the "reunion and grave yard working," as it was called then. He talked mama into coming to the sanatorium. She went and papa went with her and did carpentry work there. They were there six months. All their children were gone by then. It was in the 1940's about 1943 or 44, when they came back, they sold the farm and moved to Snyder, AR., and bought the house just west of the cemetery there. They lived there until just before mama died January 4, 1954.

Papa was a farmer and a carpenter. He helped build some of the first houses for Crossett Lumber Company.

They lived a good life, difficult at times, but they reared us all to be Christian and to love our Lord. Until this day I am so thankful and all of my brothers and sisters and I have appreciated, without forgetting, how well we were reared.

All of us went to Riley school except the youngest one, Anna Winnie Mae Stone. The school was located about $\frac{1}{2}$ mile north of Uncle George's house. In later years Ira Riley built a house in front of the school across the road, for himself and Lula Bell Stanley to live in when they got married.

The school was called the Riley school because, at the time it was built, all of Grandma Riley's children lived in the community, but everyone went to Mount Olive church. Berea was a small saw mill town at that time. (It is now just a cross road.)

Grandma Riley gave me the name "Gladys." She was at our house, (the one that burned,) when she got sick and passed away. I was only about $4 \frac{1}{2}$ years old, but I remember her, and remember going to her funeral. All my life everyone always referred to her with much love, respect and kindness, and it seemed to me she had a special kind of power, most of the time she was right. She is buried in Mount Olive cemetery.

In later years Riley School was consolidated with Hamburg school and Riley school was closed. My brother, Robert Marion Stone, always drove the bus to carry us all in the community to Hamburg. This was in 1929. He continued to drive that route for forty-six years.

Our father, Jackson Van Buren Stone, was featured in "Believe it or Not" one time for having children in the Ashley county school system for 42 consecutive years.

Dear Ms. Husky:

I submit the following for your book:

In Memory of Gladys Stone Turnage Boykin

Gladys was known to her family members simply as "Mom". She loved her family, especially all of her brothers and sisters of whom she had many. She also had great love for her two sons, Charles and Edward, whom she cared for dearly until her death.

Gladys married at a young age and divorced shortly thereafter. This left her to work and rear two boys during the depression which must have been very hard. She always worked as either an abstractor or a legal assistant throughout her life, and she never drew any type of government assistance. She made it through the rough years and was a very proud lady. Mom was a survivor.

Consistent with the love she had for her family, Mom rarely ever missed the Mt. Olive annual gathering. She always looked forward to seeing her brothers and sisters and her neighboring friends from years ago. I obtained much of the history of Mom's family ancestors in her writings and belongings found after her death, but much of the history that she alone knew is now gone forever.

Mom was a God fearing woman. She was also a happy woman, always smiling and always thinking of others. One fond thought that comes to mind when thinking of her is that of her famous homemade pickles enjoyed by so many, and those delicious pear preserves.

A special thanks is given to Mom's granddaughter, Carol Turnage Meyer, and to her husband Alvin Meyer who took care of Mom in their home during her last months here on earth.

Mom lived to be 88 years old, and died in Reedland, Arkansas on the 25th day of May, 1995.

Respectfully submitted by Clif Turnage, her grandson

Clif Turnage

WILHITE-HONEYCUTT

The following are segments from letters from WARREN D. WILHITE to PATSY K. WHITE, written in 1988 and 1990. WARREN WILHITE died in 1993 in Sherwood, Arkansas.

One item might be of interest, that I have never seen in print. From my granduncle, WARREN SAVERY WILHITT, 1855-1941, told me that at the time of the Battle of Vicksburg (he was 9) that the sound of the bombardment could be heard in Hamburg. A low grumbling, threatening sound and it continued for weeks. Vicksburg is about 75 air miles from Hamburg, so that represents a lot of gun powder. I had a lot of trouble confirming several things that were handed down about my g-grandfather, THOMAS JEFFERSON WILHITE. One was that he was a Methodist Minister. I searched several histories of Methodism in Arkansas and he just was not there. I found that Ashley and Chicot Counties were in the Northern Louisiana Conference, and there I found his full record in the archives of Centenary University of Shreveport, La. He was ordained to the level of Deacon on December 20, 1850. This is a step below Elder, and so he escaped being shipped from pillar to post. He never took a cent for his services. This explained why he moved to Ashley County in the first place, ^{it} was at the request of the Conference. They needed a church there but had ~~no~~ one they could assign ~~but~~ him. He had been preaching in Union Parish and teaching school in Farmerville, Louisiana

He bought some land and moved to Ashley County in 1858, and settled about half way between Hamburg and Berlin. Oral history says over 400 acres, not all cleared, and some of it swamp along the Tchaminahaut Creek. He built a log house and used it as a meeting house and taught school in it during the week. By tradition he built the house on his own land. Did he ever deed it to the church? The road to Poley Ridge Cemetery (Gees') is said to have gone by or through his property, and he may have donated the land too. Land records are as dry as dust, but can reveal many intresting things.

In a History of Ashley County in 1860, THOMAS J. WILHITE was the only person in Ashley County with a collection of books large enough to call a library; 122 volumes. Of these, six still exhibit and I have one of them. This history also reports that he was the only man in the county to vote AGAINST SECESSION in 1863.

That sure tore his britches with the congregation, for they all quit comming to hear him preach. Public pressure finally forced him to sell his land in 1865, just a few weeks before the end of the Civil War. He received Confederate money that became worthless, almost as soon as he got it. Enough money to fill a small trunk, and I still heve some of these bills. Save your money boys for the South gonna rise again! THOMAS J. WILHITE'S stand on secession is rather odd, as he was a slave owner, with 10 slaves himself. He was born in 1814 in Bedford Couty

Tennessee. When he was four, his father ABSOLOM WILHITE bought and gave him a "whipping boy" of about the same age. His name was AMOS CLAYTON. When LEAH FARMER was 6 in 1820, her father gave her a personal servant MARTHA, age 8 yrs. When THOMAS J and LEAH married in 1840, AMOS and MARTHA also married. That simplified living conditions. I have no record of any children that AMOS and MARTHA ever had. The other eight slaves were all relatives of MARTHA, and were bought at her request, whether they were need or not. As they had no surname, all the men took the name of WILHITE or WILLWHITE.

When the war ended, the slaves had to go on their own, as there was no land for them to work. AMOS and MARTHA refused to go. martha is reported to have said, "We may starve, but we will all do it together". Someone asked AMOS why he stayed with that old man, and he replied "Someones gotta look afer him and it mites well be me". They did stay until parted by death in Hunt County, Texas, LEAH in 1892, MARTHA in 1893, THOMAS J in 1895, and AMOS in 1896. THOMAS J and LEAH WILHITE are buried side by side in the Foof Cemetery at Farmersville, Colin Co. Texas. AMOS AND MARTHA are in the colored cemetery just across the fence.

The "Carpet Baggers" treated THOMAS J. WILHITE the same as they did the neighbors. It puzzled me that in some letters he refers to them as "RADS", and I finally found that was short for Radical Republicans. It is no wonder that Arkansas will still vote for a yellow dog over a Republican.

My grandfather, LUCIAN LARSH WILHITE, was born in Ashley County in 1863, and he died in Little Rock in 1949. When he got big enough he "worked out" for the neighbors, and saved his money and bought three thing--a good saddle horse, a saddle and a colt revolver of which he was very proud. When he was 16 in 1878, he shot an "uppity nigger", saddled his horse and took off for Texas to be a cowboy. In 1928, he owned 25,000 critter^s of his own, all White Leghorn" laying hens, with a rooster on the place. He was one of the first large-scale egg producers in Arkansas. The "black man didn't die", but LUCIAN sure thought he did.

THOMAS J. WILHITE was a man of many talents. AMOS CLAYTON did the managing of the farm, while THOMAS fooled around preaching, teaching and building bridges for the county. He was a versatile woodworker, making furniture, spinning wheels, and looms. ^{He} grew his own hemp, built a special wheel to spin the cordage, and a loom to weave it on. The hemp was treated much like flax, retted, broke, and corded for the fiber. The fine fiber, called "tow". would not do for bagging but was spun and woven into cloth to make work clothes. The harder the twist put on the thread, the more durable the cloth. I am not sure about Ashley Co. but just across the line in Ouachita Parish, La., a lot of hemp was raised for the "Rope Walks" in New Orleans. He also raised his own tobacco, and from what I have heard of it, after two or three fillings of it in his pipe, it became strong enough to pull a double bottom plow.

In ~~these~~ days it was against the law to teach a black to read and write, but THOMAS J. was home taught with AMOS sitting beside him. When he went off to college, AMOS was there with him, where else would a personal servant be ?

When THOMAS J. got his church started in Ashley County, the blacks attended as well, and sat in the back rows, until they were crowded out, then they held their own preaching in the "quarters", with AMOS doing the preaching. THOMAS took care of the marriages and baptising, but AMOS handled the funerals. I have found no evidence that AMOS CLAYTON was ever ordained, but it would not surprise me to find that there is an AME CHURCH in Ashley County that can trace its roots to AMOS CLAYTON.

About 1870, THOMAS J. WILHITE started having a series of small strokes that disabled him, so in 1880 he and his wife LEAH went to live with their daughter MARY JANE WILWHITE, who married CHARLES WESLEY HONEYCUTT, in Floyd, Texas. The son, WARREN SAVERY WILWHITE, had moved to Florida in 1878, so that left only two of the family in Ashley County. EMILY ANGELINE WILWHITE married JOHN McDUFFEY and raised a whole tribe of McDUFFEYS. I have lost all trace of that branch of the family. BYRON FARMER "BUD" WILWHITE first married Mrs. SARAH SEGARS nee HARRIS, who died in 1885, then in 1886 he married ALABAMA REBECCA "BANNER" GEE. Aunt Banner died in 1907 at the birth of a son MURRY WILWHITE. Aunt EMILY took the child to raise. Uncle WARREN came from Florida and took all the rest of the children back to Florida except the boys. THOMAS FARMER WILWHITE moved to Florida to be near his sister in 1916. The oldest son, WILLIAM M. WILWHITE became a banker in Dermott, AR and died in a car wreck in 1949. That ended my last connection to Ashley Co., for WILLIE never married.

CHARLES WELEY HONEYCUTT JR. was a merchant in Crossett in 1915, but I have no record of him marrying

Warren Daniel Wilhite

Note: There are a number of the WILWHITE family buried in Poley Ridge Cemetery.
